WPA Ducks

Story of a

Famous Newspaper

WILD THINGS are like people—most of them won't work unless they have to. I don't necessarily blame them. Every living creature keeps one eye open for a good thing.

Ford News, house organ of the motor company, tells in its February issue about the case of the Fort Peck Dam ducks that came to dinner—and now won't go away.

The Fort Peck Dam, in northeastern Montana, is a huge earth fill, and water seeping out from under its foot never gets colder than 50 degrees. The mallards coming down out of Canada for Southern waters found this out a few years ago, and about 22,000 of them now spend the winter there.

It's inconvenient for the federal government, and I'll tell you why (quoting the book). While the water stays warm all the natural duck food freezes up—so the Fish & Wildlife Service has to put out grain.

After the first year's free lunch word got around in the mallard clan, and they brought their friends with 'em the second year. It kept on like that—until now the winter colony at Fort Peck Dam numbers 22,000, and the grain bill is $3,000 a season.

Not to mention some angry Southern duck-hunters gazing in seas on an empty sky.

ON MY DESK is a beautiful brochure celebrating the new plant and building of a famous American newspaper 114 years old—the Baltimore Sun, morning, evening, and Sunday.

The Sun, founded in 1837, has had three homes: the first destroyed by the great Baltimore fire of 1904, the second in downtown Baltimore until now, and the new one just completed on the north side where traffic isn't congested and delivery trucks can distribute the newspaper quickly to carrier stations.

The Sun has a great editorial and news tradition. Founded in 1837 by A. S. Abell, a Rhode Islander, the paper became a large financial institution—but its editorial competence was enhanced by the decision of its stockholders to lodge executive authority with experienced newspaper men, free to hire and fire and make all final decisions on news and editorial policy.

The first of these distinguished editors in modern times was Paul Patterson. Associated with him were H. L. Mencken and H. C. Black.

The "white paper" that these men drew up on policy many years ago still stands as a fine management standard. To quote one paragraph:

"Obviously, the paper must have a consistent and vigorous policy to attain any wide influence, and that policy must be free of any suspicion of loyalty to private interests or rigid formulae. The Sun must convince by means of sound information, unquestionable honesty and unshakable common sense. It must be alert to new ideas and hospitable to them. It must be absolutely free."

Memphis Paper Against New Race Track

Memphis, Jan. 23 — (AP) — The Memphis Press-Scimitar said in an editorial today that race track gambling is a curse to any community and should be fought by all sensible citizens.

The editorial, entitled "That Race Track Again," blasted the proposed building of "Dixie Downs" at West Memphis. The matter is pending in the Arkansas legislature.

The paper said it was "glad" two West Memphis churches are fighting the plan, but added that this fight should not be left to church groups.

Race track gambling, it added, is one of the worst plagues inflicted on American cities and the spreading of it should be battled with the vigor and intensity with which health departments try to prevent the spread of a disease.

Camden Man Succumbs to Exposure

By The Associated Press
A Camden man died of exposure and a Nettleton youth was killed by a locomotive Monday.

Morris Gilbert, 34, died of exposure after a boat and a companion were occupying sank in the Saline river.

Seven-year-old Charles Samuel Walton was injured fatally when a locomotive struck him near Jonesboro. The second grade student and a girl companion were sitting on a railroad track when the accident occurred. The girl jumped from the track in time.

House Bill Would Liberalize Oil Well Spacing; Plan to Revamp Road Group Offered

Senate Vote Due on Sending Men to Europe

By HARLEY PERSHING

Little Rock, Jan. 22 — (AP) — The Arkansas senate today okayed without opposition bills to:

1. Change the name of Magnolia A. & M. college to Southern State college (HB49).

2. Repeal act six of 1940 giving municipalities with commission form of government (Fort Smith) power to form improvement districts to establish colleges (B14).

3. Permit the prosecuting attorney of the sixth judicial district (Pulaski and Perry counties) to hire five deputies at salaries totaling $10,200 (UB10).

4. Permit the sixth judicial district prosecuting attorney to maintain a contingent fund of $9,000 (HB17).

All of the measures now go to the governor for his signature.

The senate also approved a house concurrent resolution requesting the federal congress to pass legislation to make public names of persons on state welfare rolls.

A bill (SB117) to change the present method of selecting jury panels was introduced in the senate by Sen. Edwin Cash of Malvern.

Cash's proposal would prohibit members of a jury from serving more than one 24 day period during any two years. Other proposals in Cash's bill would:

1. Prohibit sheriffs from selecting stand-by juries when the regularly constituted panel has been exhausted.

2. Require jury commissioners to name an additional 25 member panel to be used when the regular panel has been exhausted.

3. Basic salary of jury commissioners from $3 a day to $5.

4. Provide that none of the jury commissioners can be related to each other.

The measure differs from a bill written by Rep. William Purifoy of Ouachita county, which has been approved in the house and now is in the senate for consideration.

Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — The Arkansas house today passed a bill to liberalize spacing of oil wells.

Sponsored by Rep. Harry B. Colay of Columbia county, the measure places responsibility for

Marshall Says Replacements Badly Needed

Washington, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Secretary of Defense Marshall said today the U. S. troops under General MacArthur need 15,000 replacements a month and it will be April before his divisions are built up to "normal strength."

Marshall testified at hearings by the house armed services committee on the defense department's request for universal military service and training for 18-year-olds.

The department also asks that the length of service by drafted men be extended from 21 months to 27.

Marshall, noting the military manpower goal is 3,462,000 by June 30, said "we will have to increase our forces beyond this strength if the situation worsens."

The defense secretary cited MacArthur's needs for replacements and the possibility of an increase in the military manpower goal as reasons for extending the draft to 18-year-olds. At present, the draft reaches only men aged 19 to 26.

Marshall said that when the Ke

234 Persons Die in Europe Avalanches

Vienna, Austria, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Giant avalanches thundering down Austria's mountains brought new peril to isolated villages and towns today as estimates of Alpine Europe's death toll reached 234 persons.

In Switzerland lessening of the snowfall and a temperature drop cut the avalanche danger sharply, but reports from all areas in the Austrian Alps said the slides still were roaring down, carrying boulders and uprooted trees with them and demolishing farms, hunting lodges and haystacks.

Between 112 and 127 persons had been buried by the snow in Austria during four terror-filled days.

The number of missing was unknown as an estimated 45,000 persons—including thousands of foreign tourists—remained isolated from the rest of the world.

In Switzerland 68 bodies had been recovered and at least 20 were listed as severely injured and scores of families were homeless in the icy winter.

Italy reported 25 dead, 30 injured and 20 missing following huge slides in the Livigno valley, on the Swiss-Italian border, and in the Venezia-Tridentina region, near the Austrian border.

Three were dead in France. Innsbruck, capital of the Austrian Tyrol, and its 100,000 population was isolated except for a one-day path cut through the mountain passes to the east. Lack of drinking water, caused by slide destruction of most water works, threatened the city with epidemics.

U. S. army trucks from a local American installation carried in drinking water.

Switzerland's disaster area was almost entirely located in the Roman Catholic east and south, where large families predominate. A large proportion of the victims were children.

Says Russia Gets Aluminum From Canada

Washington, Jan. 23 — (AP) — An American manufacturer told a congressional investigating committee today that Canada is shipping aluminum, now in short supply, "almost continuously" to Russian satellite countries.

Richard Reynolds, Jr., president of the Reynolds Metals Co., made the assertions before the house monopoly committee. It is holding hearings on defense plans to expand aluminum production to meet U. S. military and civilian needs.

Reynolds presented figures, which he said were based on official Canadian government reports, showing the Aluminum Company of Canada had sent 11,217,000 pounds of aluminum to Red China, Poland and Czechoslovakia during the first 10 months of 1930.

"As recently as October, 1930, it shipped 3,613,400 pounds to Czechoslovakia and Poland," he testified.

Reynolds figures showed China received a total of 3,008,000 pounds from January through October, Poland 5,318,500 pounds for the same period, and Czechoslovakia 2,899,600 pounds.

Reynolds quoted the Canadian export figures in reply to questions from Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) regarding a proposed plan for U. S. underwriting of a new $500,000,000 aluminum plant in British Columbia by the Aluminum Company of Canada.

This plan has been criticized by previous committee witnesses as a parallel to U. S. assistance to the company during World War II for construction of its Shipshaw plant in Quebec.

Reynolds told the committee that his own company started with an original RFC loan of $40,000,000.

New Guinea Volcano Hits 4,000 Persons

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Australian officials said today weekend volcanic explosions in New Guinea's "extinct" Mt. Lamington may have caused the century's worst disaster in this section of the globe.

One Australian official directing rescue work estimated the toll of dead and injured New Guineans at 4,000. Others at Port Moresby predicted many of these would later emerge from the jungle into which they may have driven.

At least one European was killed and 34 others—traders, missionaries and government officials—were missing following eruptions which, since last Thursday, have blasted into dust part of the four-peaked mountain 80 miles northeast of Port Moresby.

With poor communications on the big island north of Australia, reports and rescue operations, the other known dead officially reported were 22 New Guineans.

The eruptions produced an "atom bomb" effect, one eyewitness said, and layers of volcanic ash hampered efforts of rescue workers to reach the scene. Airline pilots said in an ash cloud 100 miles in diameter flattened out at 40,000 feet. Ashes sifted one inch deep on the streets of Port Moresby.

Lamington began to erupt Thursday. Six major blasts were reported between then and yesterday.

Ivan Champlin, director of district services in New Guinea who estimated the 4,000 casualties, said the entire northern face of the mountain was blown away. Though steam and smoke were still pouring from the gaping hole today he reported he believed the volcano was cooling off.

The mountain is in the heart of the jungle, not far from the Kokoda trail, over the Owen Stanley mountains, along which Australians and Americans fought the Japanese early in World War II.

Around its base were a few dozen New Guinean villages and a few mission stations—Church of England, Roman Catholic and Seventh Day Adventist. Survivors were brought out from an airstrip nine miles from the volcano.

Murry Rules on Legislative Budget Committee

Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ike Murry has ruled that the house is entitled to have only seven representatives on the Arkansas legislature's joint budget committee.

The senate is permitted five members.

The ruling upheld the contention of Sen. Lee Beardon of Leachville that the house had erred in naming 17 members to the committee.

Beardon charged on the senate floor last week that the large house representation was slacked with administration supporters who were thwarting economy efforts of the senate group.

The budget committee prepares bills for appropriations.

U. S. Downs 4 Russian Jets in Big Battle

Tokyo, Jan. 23 — (AP) — American thunderjets streaking over north-west Korea shot down four Russian-made MIG-15s today in history's biggest jet air battle.

The F-84s also scored one probable kill and damaged four more of the Russian speedsters with the back-sweep wings.

A. P. Correspondent John Randolph, at U. S. Fifth Air Force headquarters in Korea, said all 10 American planes returned safely, not a single bullet hole was found in the Thunderjets, he added.

On the ground, Allied command teams Tuesday reconquered the central Korean road-hub Wonsu and its airstrip. They seized nearby hills 23 and 27, ousting a force of nearly 100 Red off the latter with an artillery barrage. A spokesman said 10 p. m. (7 a. m. CDT) that United Nations forces were "in control of all Wonsu."

Thirty-one Russian MIG-15s also raged southeast of Wonsu in the air fight. 33 U. S. Thunderjets tangled with 19 to 20 MIGs over Sinuiju, just across the Yalu river from Manchuria.

"There was a real commotion, a real mixup," said one American pilot. "Soon after daylight Tuesday, Thunderjets struck at Sinuiju, a field where photographs showed a number of enemy planes. Then the swift jets in flight four rocketed and machinegunned the field while other F-84s covered."

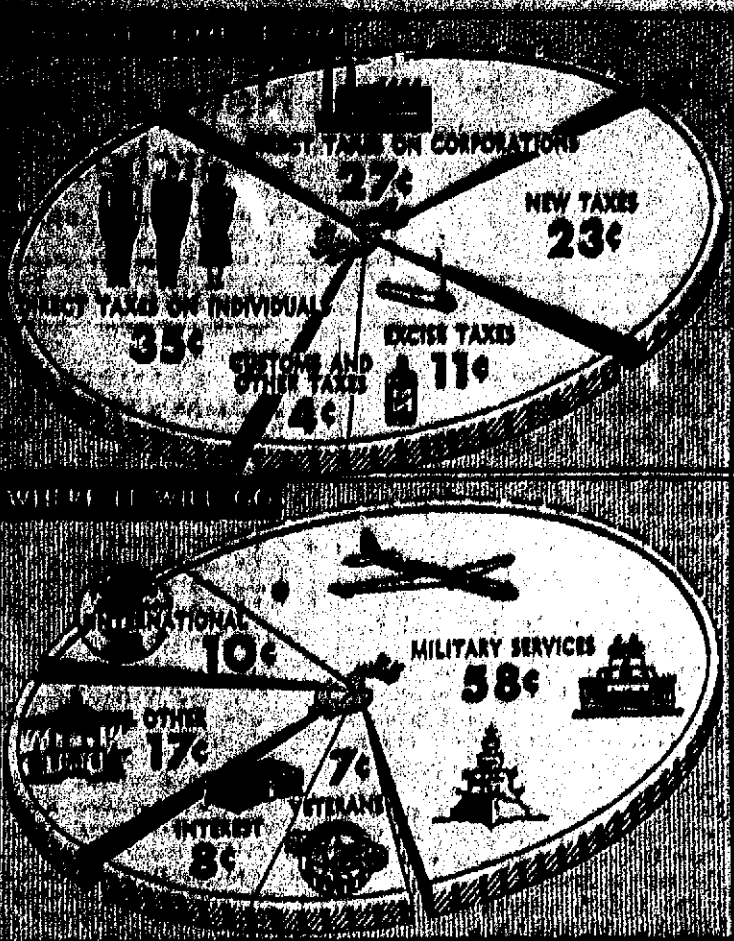

The enemy jets flashed north the Yalu river from Antung in the sanctuary of Manchuria.

For 30 minutes the air battle raged. The F-84s struck, streaked from high altitudes low and swooped upward at dazzling speeds.

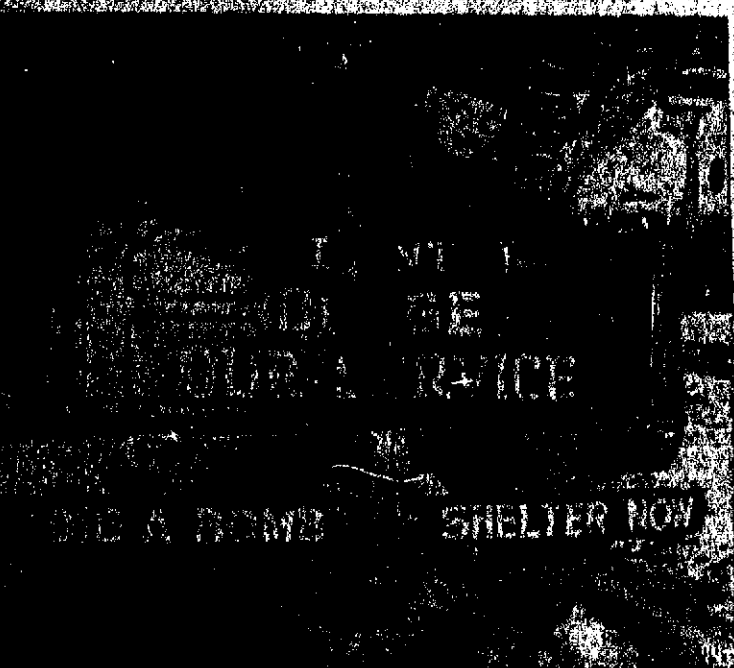

"I'll say this for the MIGs," one American jet pilot commented. "They are fast, good and they aren't afraid to fight."

In the combat, the F-84s shot down six MIGs and probable seventh.

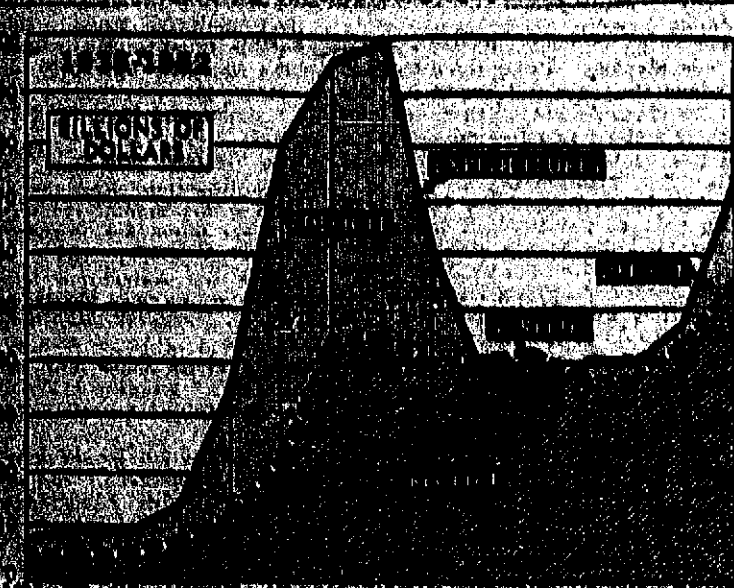

The Allied patrol, still in the air, in the two strikes. Last Dec. 22, eight F-84s shot down six MIGs and probable seventh.

THE BUDGET DOLLAR—More than half of every dollar President Truman asks for fiscal 1952 will go to the armed forces. Breakdown of federal income sources shows that greatest burden is provided by the estimated $71.6 billion Uncle Sam will spend in 1952. 1951 will fall on the individual income taxpayer, with corporation taxes providing the second biggest slice.

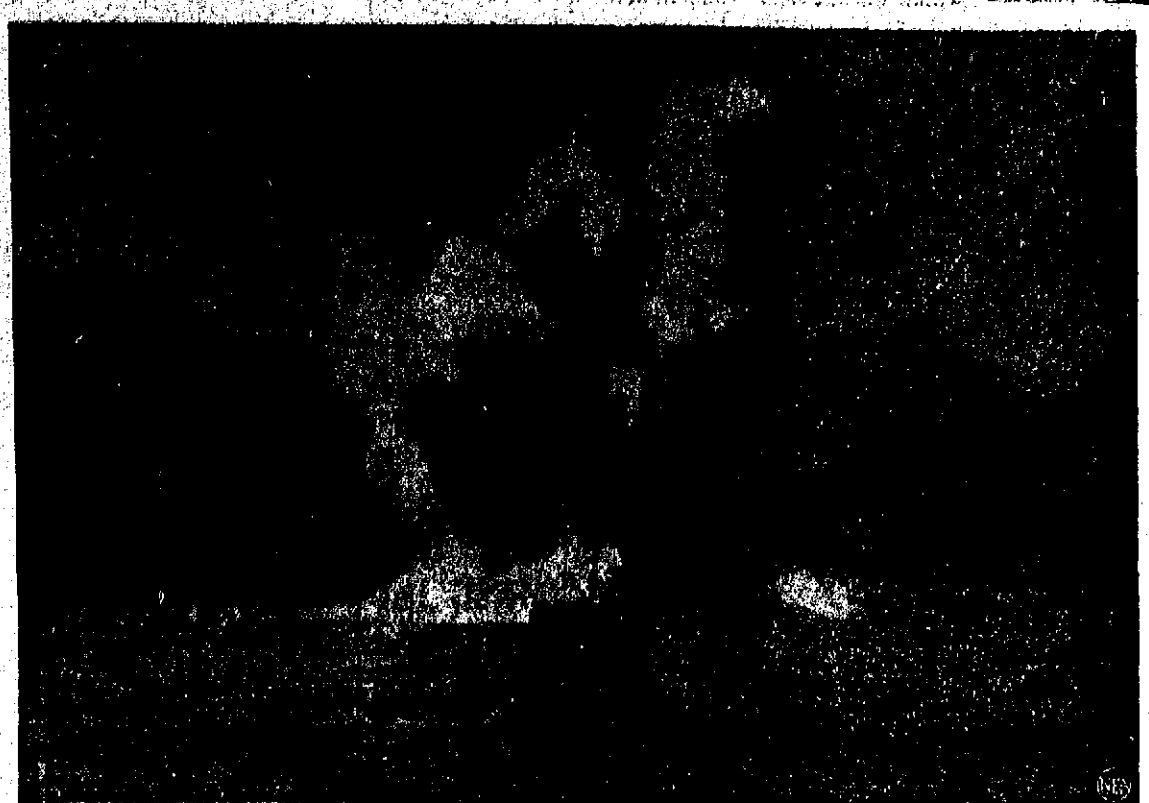

GO YOUR HOLE IN THE GROUND—Charles Connelley, 19, of 1215 S. 10th St., is a member of the "Blue Bird" club. He is advertising slogan "Go your hole in the ground" on the bumper of his truck. P. S. He's head of a firm that sells out traveling equipment.

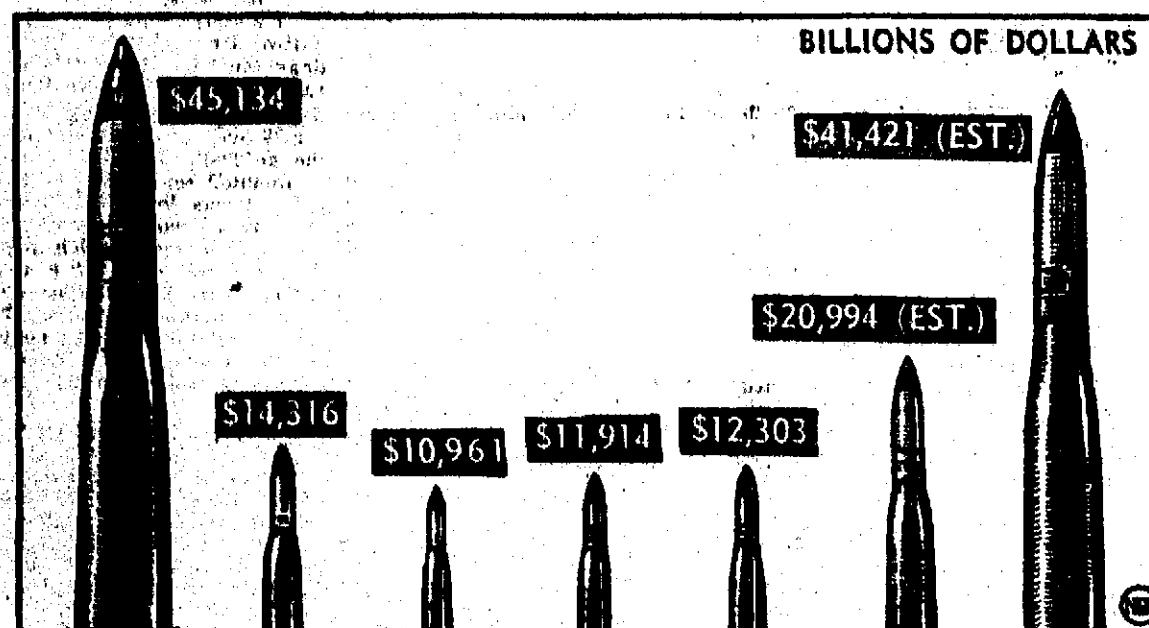

INCOME AND OUTGO—Newschart shows estimated federal receipts and expenditures for fiscal 1952, which begins July 1, in comparison with those for 1951 and 1950. The chart shows that the new fiscal year's budget will be the largest in the history of the United States.

MILITARY COST NEARS WARTIME FIGURE—Estimated cost of the armed services in fiscal 1952 is compared above with past years, showing steady rise in military costs during "cold war" period. The Korean war and current peril of World War III boost 1952's estimate to nearly twice what will be spent this fiscal year, which ends June 30. The new military budget is within $4 billion of the 1946 expenditures, which covered the last part of World War II and the beginning of demobilization.

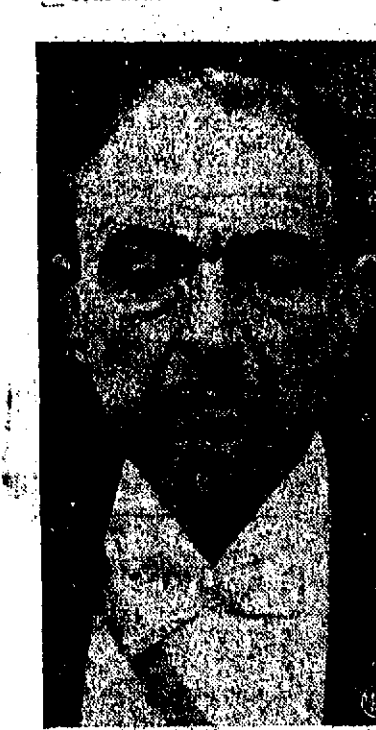

UNBALANCED BUDGET—Inset compares estimated total federal receipts and expenditures for the new fiscal year budget with those for 1951 (est.) and 1950. Large chart, diagramming amounts allocated in principal budget items, shows the military services taking up $41.4 billion of the $55.1 billion budget total. In this $41.4 billion of direct military spending in fiscal 1952, add $11 billion for "national security." This includes $2.4 billion for foreign aid—largely to help pay our allies—and $8.6 billion for stockpile weapons production. President Truman's budget message indicated military spending will hit $40 billion in the next fiscal year.

GOING UP!—Estimated federal expenditures for fiscal 1952 will eat up more than one-quarter of the national income. This "peacetime" bite is almost half that of fiscal 1945—the peak war year.

TO ISLAND COMMAND—Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, above, wartime commander of Ohio's 37th Infantry Division, has been assigned to head the Ryukyus Command with headquarters on Okinawa. Formerly head of the Marianas-Bonins Command on Guam, Beightler will double as deputy governor of the Ryukyus Islands. General MacArthur is governor.

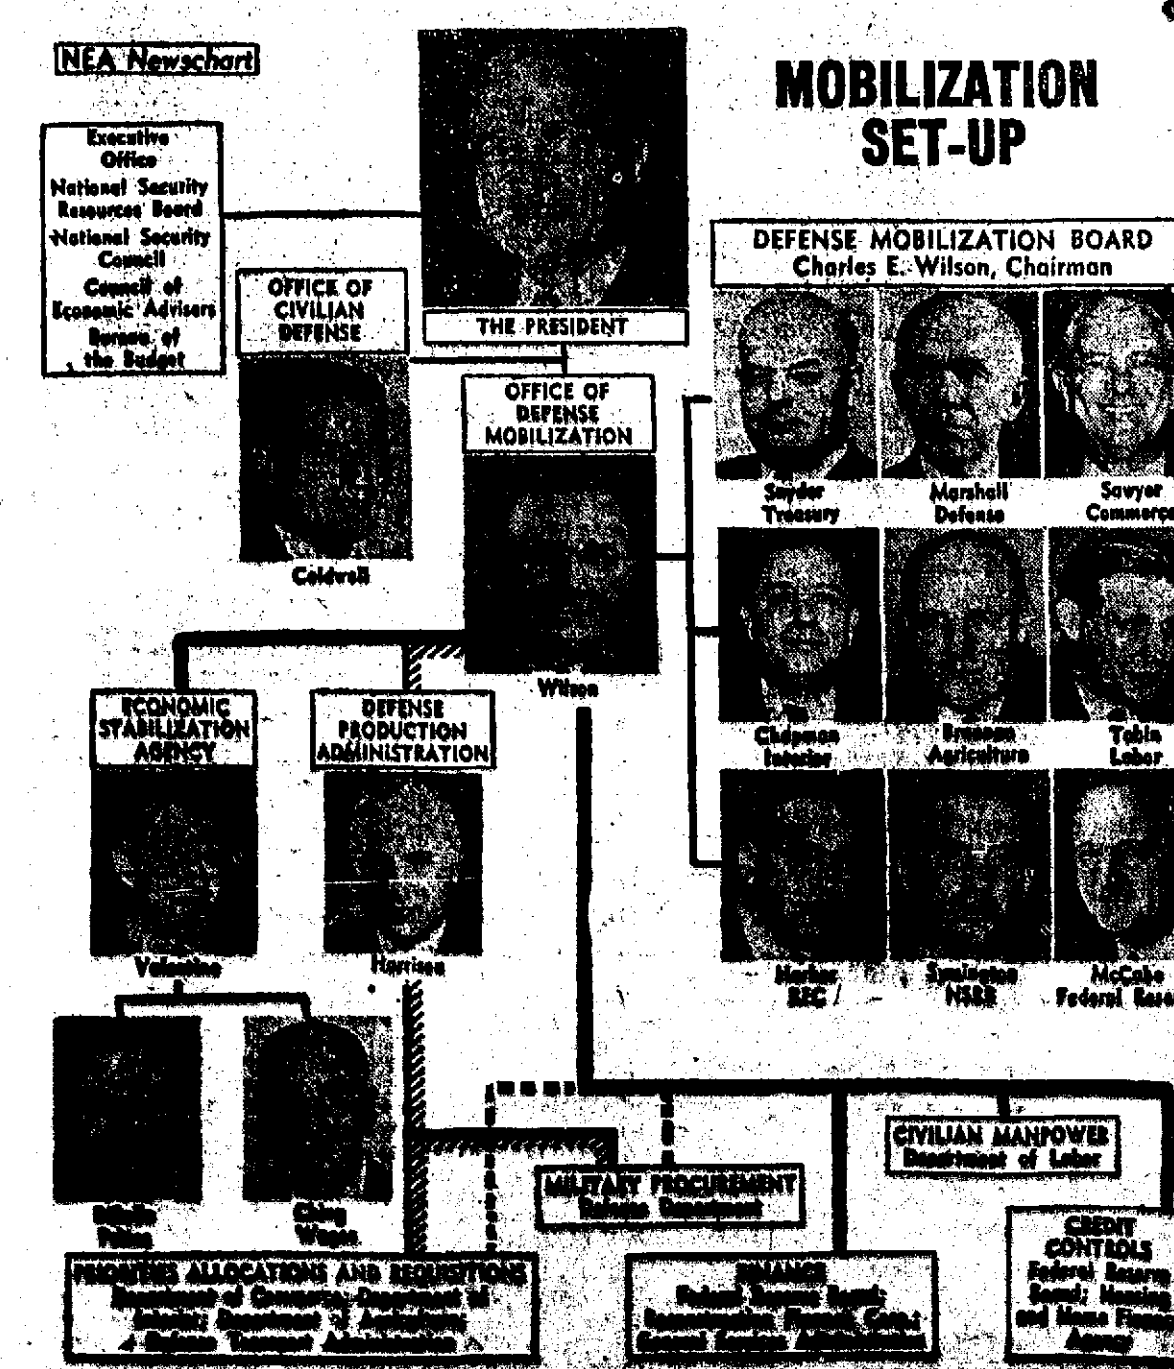

SPAIN'S ENVOY—With only technicalities barring exchange of ambassadors between the U. S. and Spain, it is reported that former Foreign Minister Jose Felix Lequerica will be the Spanish envoy. He will be Spain's first ambassador in Washington in five years.

REDS, EYE RICH PLUM—Symbols on Newschart above show important natural resources of strategic Indo-China, target of stepped-up aggression by Ho Chi Minh's rebel Communist troops. In addition to resources on map, it is known that iron, tungsten, manganese and many other useful minerals are to be found in virtually unprospected areas of the country.

A BOW... AND HOW!—Flower-boy Tony Barnby concentrates so well on making a good impression with his low, gentlemanly bow that he forgets to hand the bouquet to Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, left. The occasion was a League of Pity "Blue Bird" fancy dress party in London.

Fulbright Would Bring Troops Home

Washington, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Senator Fulbright of Arkansas thinks American troops should be withdrawn from Korea and doubts that the United States has the ability to carry out what he called President Truman's program to resist aggression wherever it arises.

Fulbright told the senate yesterday the American aim had been to save the South Koreans from aggression, but he said this can't be accomplished now that he welcomes Reds have attacked in overwhelming numbers.

"It is far wiser to recognize the hard military facts of the situation and to withdraw from Korea than to persist in an undertaking which is now quite different from that which we began in June," he said.

Fulbright also said he favors a course midway between that taken in foreign policy by President Truman and the views advocated by former President Herbert Hoover and Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

The Arkansas senator said Hoover's proposal that the United States withhold aid from Europe until it builds a "sure dam" against communism and Taft's opposition to having the United States take the lead in building up Western Europe's defenses is "dangerous to our security and morally wrong."

It seems to me clear," Fulbright said, "that if we refuse not only to make an equitable and fair contribution to the ground forces of an European army, but also fail to take the leadership in organizing it, we will in effect have abandoned those people to domination by the Kremlin."

part were Jan Moses, "The Beginning of the March"; Helen Hall, "Continuing the March"; Jacques Williams, "Baptists Press Forward"; Ann Houston, "Revival, Conventions"; Judy Moses and Martha Osborn, "What of Tomorrow?"

Mrs. Hobart Shirley served delightful refreshments to the group at the conclusion of the program.

DOROTHY DIX High Standards

Dear Miss Dix: I don't want a career. I don't prefer single blessedness to married life. But, at the same time, I feel that I would never be satisfied with a husband less well educated than myself. So what am I to do? Boys are afraid of intelligence in girls and I have that handicap. Also, while I am not ugly I am Miss America. Another disadvantage is that boys do not like to go with a girl who hasn't a waiting list for week end dates unless they are unattractive themselves, and I wouldn't want to go with a boy no one else wanted to date. So what is there for a girl who refuses to lower her standards, yet who wants to be popular? So far my sense of humor has saved me, but even that is getting low.

Answer: Well, my dear, if you have a sense of humor, you have at least one charm to conjure with, and it is the most enduring one and the most potent one in any woman's bag of tricks.

It Won't Fade
Moreover, a sense of humor doesn't fade as beauty does. It's good for a long pull of matrimony. If you will notice the old married couples who are joggling along comfortably together toward their golden wedding day, you will find that in almost every instance the wife is a jolly woman who is cheerful and easy to live with and who has laughed off her husband's little faults and peculiarities instead of making tragedies out of them.

It is a good policy to take what you can get, and like it, rather than waste your life in longings after the unattainable. Many a man who never saw the inside of a college has acquired the highest and broadest and most profound of all educations in the University of Hard Knocks. Many a man whose grammar is rickety is all the more when it comes to love and tenderness and kindness to his wife. If no woman married until she found her ideal, the wedding bells would cease to ring.

Dear Miss Dix: I am deeply in love with a young girl whose parents are divorced. Although her mother has legal custody of her, she loves her father the most and blames the mother for the separation. She has had a pretty hard road to go and hence is down on marriage. Although she loves me, she is afraid that if we were married it would end unhappily. What can I say to her that will make her change her mind and realize that because her parents' marriage was a failure ours need not be?

Answer: You can tell her that marriage is like everything else in life — an individual experiment — and because one person does not make a go of it is no sign that another will not do so. The world would stop still if we were all afraid to undertake any adventure because someone else had failed at it.

It is natural that a girl who has been the victim of an unhappy marriage should look upon marriage with apprehension, but for that very reason she is the more likely to make her own marriage succeed. She has seen the bitter end to which family quarrels can come and that will make her the more careful to keep her own home peaceful. She has seen how a husband and wife can antagonize each other until they kill love and so she will take the more trouble to placate her husband and to do everything to retain his affections.

Most of all, she has known the misery of a child uprooted from its home, torn between its parents. Its little life blighted by their feuds, and so she will be very careful to shield her own children from such a fate.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I have been married a year and a half. We have incurred debts. He earns a fair salary, but not enough for us to live in a half-way decent way, so I am working. My husband thinks that I should pool my salary with his and pay our debts. I am willing to do this, but after they are paid should I put the money in a general fund or have my own bank account? I know if I want to keep my salary and keep mum about its use my husband would feel that he had the same privilege. What about it?

Answer: Why not compromise on a joint account? But I don't see how you can mingle business with marriage. If you don't trust your husband enough to believe he will deal fairly with you about money, you haven't much faith in him.

Jury Called to Indict Badman Cook

Oklahoma City, Jan. 23 — (AP) — A federal grand jury convened here today and is expected quickly to indict badman W. E. Cook for the kidnap-murder of the five-member Carl Mosser family of Alwood, Ill.

Cook, a 23-year-old Joplin, Mo., ex-convict, is charged with abducting the Mosser family, driving them on a terror tour of five states, then shooting all five and dumping their bodies in an abandoned mine shaft near his Joplin home.

Ramond A. Bunstine of Edmond was named foreman of the 23-man jury. Ralph C. Kummer, Shawnee, was deputy foreman.

U. S. District Attorney Robert Shelton was closed with the jury presenting evidence in the Cook case and 64 other matters on the heavy docket.

Indictments are expected to be returned later today.

Federal officers moved Cook from his guarded county jail cell to a cell in the U. S. Marshall's office at the federal building where he will be available for jury questioning.

Earlier Cook was confronted in his jail cell by Deputy Sheriff Homer Waldrup of Riverside County, Calif. Waldrup said he was held captive by Cook and forced to drive over the Imperial v a freeway before leaving him bound beside the road.

Cook was captured a few days later in Mexico after an international manhunt. In his spree, he also is accused of slaying salesman Robert Dawsey, Seattle, Wash.

In a statement to the FBI, he admitted he killed the six.

The badman denied ever seeing Waldrup, but the deputy said "he remembers me all right."

Eisenhower Readies for Home Trip

Paris, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower arrived here from Germany today, homeward bound after speedy stops in 10 European nations from which he hopes to draw the bulk of his Atlantic pact army to defend Western Europe against Soviet communism.

Fog over Paris' Orly field kept the general's plane circling some 45 minutes before it was able to land. It was believed at one time the aircraft would have to be diverted to another French airport or perhaps even return to Frankfurt.

After two days in the French capital, Eisenhower leaves Thursday by air for Iceland and Canada — the only two Atlantic pact signers he still must visit — and Washington.

Eisenhower began his survey of West Europe's readiness and plans for defense with a look two weeks ago at France's situation. During his visit now he is expected to work on arrangements for setting up his headquarters in Paris or its vicinity.

Military sources here said Paris, Versailles and Fontainebleau all are possible sites for the Atlantic command's permanent headquarters. Temporary headquarters now is in the Hotel Astoria here.

As Western Europe's new supreme military commander returned here, French police stood ready to enforce a government ban on a mass demonstration the Communists have called against him tomorrow afternoon.

Communist leaders had not announced his morning what he they would abide by the ban, but the government made clear it would use force if necessary to carry out its order.

Eisenhower wound up his military appraisal of Western Europe in Frankfurt last night, holding private talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, World War II German generals and other German leaders.

Episcopal Diocese Opens 4-Day Convention
Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — The three-day 70th convention of the Episcopal diocese of Arkansas opened at Christ church here today.

The Rt. Rev. R. Bland Mitchell, a fellow member, Rep. Glenn Walther of North Little Rock, author of the house resolution.

Walther answered that he had no idea that the Sons would disapprove of the proposed museum, and said he would go along with them on that section of the bill.

The track would be built by R. J. Bollow of Mountain Home, Ark., and others and would be called Dixie Downs. Bollow claims he has enough second-hand material to build it and would not be bound by recent non-defense construction rulings.

Walther, introduced the resolution, said the track would aid Arkansas in getting back much of the money that is spent in Memphis by Arkansans. He also predicted that it would add about $1,500,000 annually to the state treasury by way of racing fees.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape — imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs.

That is the way Joseph N. Damil, lot, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods.

Here is Mr. Damil's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at night. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at night. Thanks to HADACOL, I will never be without it and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

Negro to Die for Slaying Man Who Fired Him

Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — George Ferguson, Little Rock Negro, is to die in the electric chair at Tucker prison farm Feb. 23 for the slaying of a man who had fired him from a job at a lumber company here.

The execution date was fixed by Governor McMath yesterday.

Ferguson was convicted in Pulaski circuit court of first degree murder in the March 8, 1949, shooting of Duwood Miller in an office at the Monarch Lumber Co.

The conviction and death sentence was upheld by the Arkansas Supreme court.

Trade Law Extension Is Sought

Washington, Jan. 22 — (AP) — The Truman administration starts today a drive for a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade law. The new congress otherwise was concerned primarily with defense measures.

The first witness called by the house ways and means committee on the trade extension. He was due to request the renewal without any strings of President Truman's authority to negotiate trade treaties.

The aim of the program is to lower or eliminate barriers to world trade and thus stimulate in-

Some Republicans, complaining that Mr. Truman has cut import duties, so sharply in some cases as to hurt American manufacturers of the same product, will try to limit the act's extension to one year.

These Republicans also have proposed renewing a peril point clause limiting the President's tariff-cutting powers to specified levels. This limit was voted by the Republican-controlled 80th congress but repealed after Democrats regained control of congress in 1948.

Tariffs always have proved a fruitful field for inter-party squabbles.

Debate continued in the senate on the wisdom of sending American ground troops to build up the defenses of Western Europe against possible Communist attack. A vote is scheduled for tomorrow on a resolution by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) opposing the dispatch of additional U. S. troops to Europe until congress outlines a policy on the matter.

The house is slated to vote tomorrow on legislation permitting the recognition of defense contracts. And it is to vote Wednesday on a proposal to give all members of the armed forces $10,000 free life insurance.

Attendance Tabe Presented to Kiwanis Members

At their regular meeting at Hotel Broadway on Thursday, January 18th, President Joe T. Smith presented a table to each member having one or more years attendance without missing a meeting. Floyd Hubbard, Gus McCaskill, Saxon Regen and L. J. Bryson, District Governor of Kiwanis International, each received tabs showing four years of perfect attendance. Membership tabs but one were also presented to Dr. D. L. Mearley and W. R. Hambricht, the club's newest members.

J. A. Cole, in charge of the evening program, gave an account of Kiwanis organization in Detroit, Michigan, in 1915, and its history and growth to the present time, with membership of 200,000 in 3,200 clubs in the United States and Canada. Kiwanis fundamentals of Integrity, Faith, Industry, Vision, Thrift and Interest in the other fellow evolved from its slogan "We Build". Mr. Cole stated in answer to inquiries as to the origin of the name Kiwanis that it was a word of Indian ancestry, and roughly translated means self-expression by service to humanity.

Mr. Cole ended his address by asking the active participation of all members in the 1934 National March of Dimes campaign, now in progress, and sponsored in Nevada County by the local Kiwanis Club.

from which the government already has received $105,000,000 in taxes, repayment of principal, interest and other items. Eventually, he said, Reynolds will return more than $124,000,000 to the government before the loan is completely paid off.

Terms Budget Invitation to Disaster

Washington, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) today termed President Truman's $71,500,000,000 budget "an invitation to disaster" demanded that the White House recall it.

Bridges, top Republican on the senate appropriations committee, said in a statement that the White House had practiced "outright deceit" in contending that non-defense spending had been cut.

"If Stalin himself were given the opportunity to weaken America from within, he could scarcely produce a plan better calculated to destroy this government," Bridges declared. "We are being asked, literally, to spend ourselves to ruin."

Congress, of course, is not bound to vote the money Mr. Truman asked. His budget message, required by law, is a recommendation to congress on how much money should be appropriated to run the government in the next fiscal year.

Congress may vote more or less at its discretion. In actual practice for the completed fiscal year during which Mr. Truman has been President, it has voted less than he asked twice and more than he asked twice.

Bridges contended that the budget for the year beginning July 1, actually requests authority to spend $84,500,000,000 and a net $4,000,000,000 to liquidate old bills.

For this reason, he said, the $71,500,000,000 in new taxes suggested by the President "will not" come close to balancing our federal books.

He said that by next June 30 the served as assisting hostesses.

The spacious living room was decorated with potted plants. An arrangement of white-colored city-sanshemus graced the mantel.

The meeting was opened with the ritual led by the Regent, Mrs. J. A. Cole and the chaplain, Mrs. W. G. Bonberg.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Allen Geo. Mrs. C. H. Tompkins, treasurer, gave a financial statement. Reports of committees were heard.

The chapter is sponsoring a history, Mummy making, scrapbook and dress contest that is being held in the high school. Awards will be made at an early date.

The following delegates were elected to attend the State Conference in Little Rock: Mrs. H. H. Kenzie, Mrs. J. W. Teeter, Mrs. Allen Geo. Alternates: Mrs. Wills Hamby, Mrs. C. H. Tompkins, Mrs. R. P. Hamby and Mrs. J. B. Heasley.

Mrs. E. B. Bryson, who is State chairman of Girl Home Maker Committee, presented an interesting program in "At the Home, So the Nation." The President General's message was given by Mrs. Wills Hamby.

Members and guests Mrs. C. A. Haynes and Mrs. C. H. Moore were invited into the dining room where they were served dainty refreshments from a table covered with a beautiful cut work linen cloth. Appointments were of silver.

Mrs. R. L. Blakely, Mrs. Roy Duke, and Mrs. L. L. Mitchell were Friday visitors in Hope.

Marshall Says

rean campaign began last June, MacArthur had in Japan four divisions at about half strength.

He said MacArthur made the "very courageous decision" to put 20,000 South Koreans into the ranks of the American divisions.

Thus, he said, "we had to depend on men who had three weeks training or no training at all" and to the tune of about 20 per cent of division strength.

He said that when he took over last fall as secretary of defense those American units were still 20 per cent short in American manpower.

It was Marshall's second trip to the capital to urge universal military training and service. He already had urged it on the senate preparedness subcommittee.

The senate committee, headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), recessed its hearings today but will resume tomorrow.

Members of the house committee generally are agreed that the government may owe $53,000,000,000 in unpaid bills not figured in the federal debt, adding that it "cannot run a gigantic check kiting indefinitely."

Bridges asserted there is obvious fraud in the President's claim that 130 non-defense items were reduced under last year's outlays.

He said Mr. Truman claimed he had saved $23,700,000 because there was no appropriation sought for the international refugee organization which has completed its program and is being liquidated.

He said Mr. Truman claimed a $2,000,000,000 saving in stock piling. Bridges contended that approximately that amount appropriated by congress for this purpose last year had been spent and there is no need for more money.

the spacing of new oil wells on the Arkansas oil and gas commission.

Colay said that heretofore the commission has not authority to draft law will have to be tightened to meet mounting military manpower needs.

But they are equally agreed that teenagers shall not be sent into battle without a legal requirement that they have adequate training beforehand.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) voiced what appeared to be a general commission sentiment when he told newsmen:

"I'm for extending the period of service to 27 months. I'm for training draftees in this country before they go overseas, from four to six months. If you don't draft 18-year-olds, you've got to get into veterans and married men. There is no alternative."

The present draft law expires on June 9, by which time the armed forces expect to have 3,500,000 men in uniform compared with 1,400,000 in mid-1950.

Among other defense department proposals is a 10-year suspension of present manpower ceilings on the army, the navy and the air force and a tightening of loopholes in existing law which have enabled many persons to evade service or obtain exemptions.

Committee members generally finish their academic year before donning a uniform and letting high school students defer induction until they are 19.

But present sentiment is for making it tougher to obtain deferments through local boards for occupational reasons and for avoiding the induction of World War II veterans.

authorize drilling on anything other than 10-acre units. But if his bill gets senate approval and is signed by the governor, the commission will be able to issue permits on such spacing as it sees fit.

Colay said that modern drilling operations are much more expensive than they were a few years ago because it is necessary to go much deeper.

Another bill okayed today would fix pick-up truck licenses at a flat $12 a year.

The vote was 78-7 in favor of the measure, which now goes to the senate.

Rep. Laud Payne of Clay county said he had worked out the terms of the bill with the revenue department and that it would eliminate "confusion and that is probably a mild word."

Under the present system pick-up trucks may be rated one of three ways and be levied on at rates ranging from $12 to $18.

Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — The house-approved bill to alter the jury selection system in Arkansas has brought about a stiff verbal battle between its sponsor and a federal district attorney.

Rep. William I. Purifoy of Camden, author of the proposal, charged on the house floor yesterday that James T. Gooch, federal district attorney for eastern Arkansas, has been lobbying against the bill.

Gooch denied the charge and stated that he had not been in the capitol since the general assembly convened for the current session.

Purifoy's bill would raise the penalty for fixing a jury from a misdemeanor to a felony; prohibit the use of professional jurors and direct selection of jurors by a jury wheel.

In a telegram to U. S. Attorney General McGrath, Purifoy asked that he or der Gooch to quit lobbying against the measure.

Purifoy also charged in his telegram, read on the house floor, that "Gooch is the son-in-law of an attorney strongly suspected of jury fixing."

(In Arkadelphia, Attorney John Lookadoo, president of the Arkansas Bar association and Gooch's father-in-law, said: "I assume he had reference to me. So far as I know I have never been accused in this (Clark) county, where the people know me, of fixing a jury.")

Gooch, in denying Purifoy's charges, said:

"I was surprised and shocked. I have not been in the capitol, much less the house or senate chambers, since the present session opened."

"Furthermore, I have never used my official position as United States attorney in any way unbecoming to the office, and I would welcome an investigation of this charge."

Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — The Arkansas house has been asked to set a time for disposal of all money matters.

A resolution offered by Rep. James T. Wimberly of Lincoln, J. A. Womack of Dallas, John P. Bethell of Prairie and Sam Sullivan of White provides that all tax and appropriation bills be introduced in the fifth week of the session.

Consideration of any other measure would be prevented until fiscal matters are out of the way.

Other measures introduced in the house include bills to:

Prohibit newspaper, radio or billboard advertising of any alcoholic beverage;

Put a two-cent per gallon excise tax on gasoline, to be paid by the wholesaler and not by the public;

Return to the duplicate ballot system and voting by scratching

every name but the voter's preference;

Permit large cities to pay their mayors up to $7,500 a year.

Little Rock, Jan. 23 — (AP) — Another plan to reorganize the Arkansas highway commission has been offered to the senate.

Sen. Y. M. Mack of Moorefield, yesterday introduced a bill to reduce the number of commissioners from 10 to 5. The 10 highway maintained into five.

The measure provides for the legislature to elect members of the first commission. Thereafter, the governor would appoint members, each to a 10-year term. Terms of commission members would be staggered so a governor could appoint only one commissioner during any two-year period.

The first commission reorganization bill (SB50), sponsored by Senator Eagle Street of Cave City, also calls for a 10-member commission. His bill provides for two to four-year staggered terms, with the first commission to be appointed by the legislature.

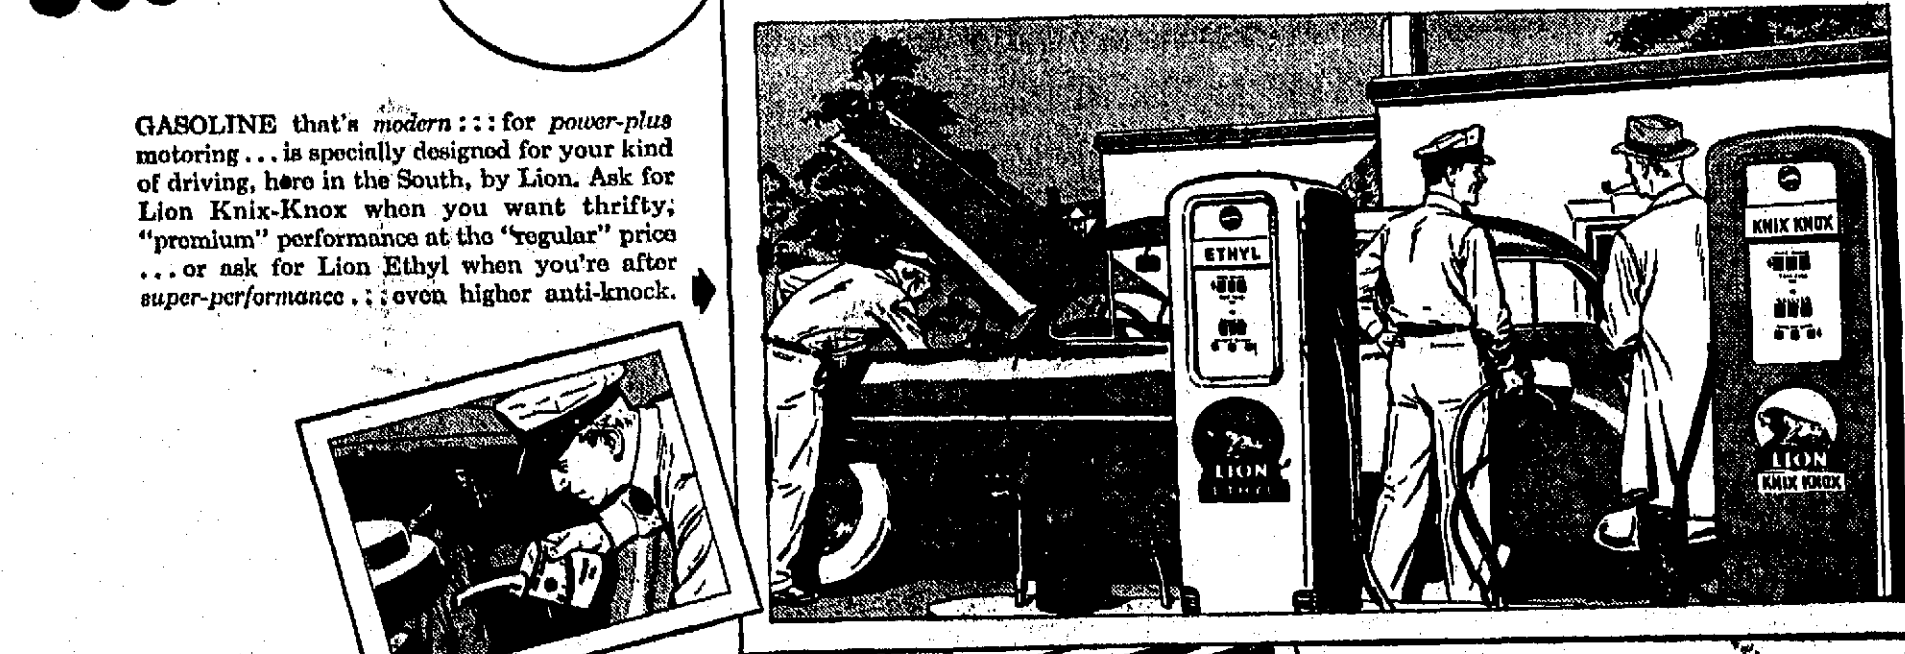

New senate bills include ones to: Prohibit the sale of cigarettes at a price lower than 20 cents a package;

Provide funds for state departments and agencies;

Require automobile agencies to furnish buyers statements saying whether cars purchased were or were not pulled or towed by other vehicles into the state.
